The meeting was held for the purpose of an intensive study of organization problems. Representatives from ten Central Kentucky cities were present and took an active part in the discussion. Price Gaines, secretary of the Lexington Board of Commerce, with J. W. Morrison, acting President of the Lexington Board, and J. U. Nichols, secretary of the Frankfort Chamber of Commerce, led a discussion of how the organization could best serve the interests of local Chambers of Commerce. Dinner was served by the Young Ladies' Circle in the First Christian church.

RECEIVES UNIQUE GIFT

Miss Myrtle Ferguson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ferguson, of Scott avenue, is the possessor of a most unique fan, a gift from Miss Faith M. Suggs, a missionary in the South of China. The fan is beautifully hand-carved, of an intricate design and handsome workmanship. The souvenir came to Miss Ferguson from Pakhoi, China, where Miss Suggs is engaged in missionary work. She was a visitor in Paris several months ago, when she delivered a lecture on the work being done by the missionaries in China. Miss Ferguson prizes her unique gift very highly.

Tower of Babel.

The tower of Babel is the tower spoken of in Genesis as being built by mankind after they came down from the ark to the plain from the mountain of the east. It was like the later temple tower of Babylon, except that it was being constructed so high that its top might reach Heaven. The builders were miraculously prevented by the confounding of their language. Thus the origin of our many tongues.

Concerning Compensation.

"What is this Emersonian compensation we hear so much about?" asked the Inquisitive Person. "That," said the Cynical Philosopher, "is the doctrine that things are never so bad as they seem, because there are always mitigating circumstances. Compensation is the principle, active in the world, whereby you get a ride to the hospital in the ambulance that knocked you down."

About the hardest thing is to get many a man to take the last word and quit talking.

It is hoped that the letters of appeal to be sent to the citizens of Bourbon county for funds for the Salvation Army Service Fund will be answered. The army is a just organization of willing workers. It is highly commended by our soldier boys, for it turns no one down.

PLEASANT SOCIAL AFFAIR FOR STUDENTS

Twenty-five young men and women, members of the Fidelis Class of the Baptist Sunday School, and of the Senior B. Y. P. U., formed a merry crowd who stormed the Nurses' Home of the Massie Memorial Hospital to spend the hours from eight to ten with the six young women who are taking the nurses' training course at that institution.

The majority of the student nurses were strangers in Paris, and the courtesy extended at this time was at a most opportune time, being not only an introduction into a pleasant circle, but mutual friendships were formed which will eventually result in other happy evenings. Fruit punch was served by Mrs. Christian, and the young people had taken with them homemade candies, fruits and nuts. The success of the evening was due largely to the efforts of Mrs. Albert Mitchell, the efficient teacher of the young ladies' class.

Nature-Painted Grass.

The greenest grass in the world is what visitors say of the lawns in Denver, after they find out that the emerald-green velvety appearance is not some hokus pokus of gardeners to fool tourists, but is due to the action of the mineral salts in the soil.

Rural Prescience.

Greensboro Journal—"In a small town folks know when a marriage is going to occur sooner than the persons that are involved in it."—Boston Transcript.

BIRTHS

—In this city, last week, to the wife of Dan Stump, a son.

Here is Huxley's Purpose.

To smite all humbugs, however big; to give a nobler tone to science; to set an example of abstinence from petty personal controversies and of toleration for everything but lying; to be indifferent as to whether the work is recognized as mine or not, so long as it is done—are these my aims? 1860 will show.—From T. H. Huxley's Diary.

Nature's Discipline.

A stern discipline pervades all nature, which is a little cruel that it may be very kind.—Spenser.

It's Contagious!

A South side citizen says he has a dog that is such an earnest and enthusiastic scratcher that it has got even his fountain pen to scratching.

Ever Hopeful.

Following is a card received from my little sister up in the country on a vacation: "Dear Marian: I am having a fine time. I arrived safe and hope to arrive the same way going home. Love from Gertrude."—Chicago Tribune.

Lone and Mysterious.

There is an elderberry bush seven feet high on the tableland of Mesa Verde National park, in Colorado, that has the distinction of being the only one in that country. How it got there, and whether the last of the Indian cliff dwellers had anything to do with its growth there is being investigated by scientists.

Palm Beach and Iceland.

Colorado's climate is unusual in that the traveler within its boundaries can journey from temperate to Arctic climes within a few hours, wearing a heavy overcoat over his thin summer suit.

MY MORNING WALK TO WORK

I saw a flock of pigeons,
All blue and mauve and brown,
Sail gleaming in the shining air
Like jewels in a crown.

I saw a charming little child,
With gold all-through her hair,
Win smiles from even dour old men
Because she was so fair.

The yellow train went sweeping by,
Away o'er dale and hill
I envied it, the rushing trip
Through autumn air, so crisp and chill.

And many other pleasant sights
The morning walk did thus beguile,
It seemed an almost cruel thing—
A desk at the end of the mile.

Folks are enjoined to give until it hurts, but few persons suffer pain on account of their charity.
